To Whom It May Concern:

Since June of 2007, Door County Habitat for Humanity has utilized insulated concrete forms (ICFs) supplied by TF Systems on all nine new homes built in Door County. Not only have the forms proved to be an economical alternative to other systems, results have been superior to those achieved with other suppliers. As an organization that works primarily with volunteers, we have found that the TF ICFs are easy to work with, requiring only minimal training.

TF Systems has supplied materials and has also provided outstanding customer service, delivering materials on short notice and even sending TF personnel to assist with installation and concrete pours. Classroom training supplied by TF has enhanced the ability of our volunteers to finish our homes in a professional manner.

Door County Habitat for Humanity would heartily recommend TF Systems to any other home builder as a quality supplier of ICFs and as a company concerned with the satisfaction of its customers.

If you require additional information, feel free to contact me at your convenience.
